Edward Broughton

Director, Research and Evaluation, USAID ASSIST Project/URC

Dr. Edward Broughton is the Director or Research and Evaluation for the USAID ASSIST and Health Care Improvement Projects and currently leads a division responsible for more than a dozen studies in eleven countries. He received his PhD from Johns Hopkins University and was a faculty member at Columbia University School of Public Health. He specializes in economic analyses of health programs and has published several research papers in peer-review journals.

The USAID ASSIST Knowledge Portal is made possible by the generous support of the American people through the U.S. Agency for International Development and its Bureau for Global Health, Office of Health Systems. The information provided on this web portal is not official U.S. Government information and does not represent the views or positions of USAID or the U.S. Government. The USAID ASSIST Project is managed by University Research Co., LLC under Cooperative Agreement Number AID-OAA-A-12-00101.

Source URL: https://www.usaidassist.org/blog/authors/edward-broughton