FHI 360 leads worldwide research, including clinical trials; other epidemiologic methods; and behavioral, programmatic, and operations research to evaluate health technologies, services, and programs. FHI 360 works to strengthen PMTCT services, with a focus on integration of PMTCT into HIV treatment and care and on building links between PMTCT and other services, such as maternal, newborn, and child health and family planning.